

Resumen Biografía

Datos generales

Vera Stetsenko, rusa

Educación

Vera Stetsenko is a Russian educator, entrepreneur, and Fulbright alumna specializing in language education, intercultural communication, and international exchange. She taught Russian at Mississippi Valley State University and has over 10 years of experience teaching English and Russian. Vera is the founder of CosmoRide, an education startup connecting American learners with Russian educators through the lens of the space industry. Her work focuses on educational innovation, entrepreneurship, and building cross-cultural partnerships. She has presented at international conferences, published research on language teaching and AI in education, and mentors students pursuing global academic and professional opportunities.

Fotografía del Ponente

Líneas de investigación

